

I am outraged that Sinclair Broadcasting is not only showing "Stolen Honor: Wounds That Never Heal" but is forcing its affiliates to air the program in prime time.

This is nothing more than a slickly produced partisan attack and smear on a presidential candidate. If Sinclair airs this show, it must offer equal time to the other side.

And a vague invitation to Senator Kerry to be interviewed is in no way the same format or quality, especially since Sinclair will not say who else will also be allowed to take part in the interview. It is an invitation offered in name only in an attempt to sidestep the equal time policy.

Please do what is necessary to tell Sinclair Broadcasting that if they show this program that they also must give an hour to the other side. How about a one hour excerpt from Fahrenheit 911?
